INDEX

NUMERICS

18% gray, 78
18% gray cards, 81

A

accessory flash
  advantages of, 288–290
  attaching, methods for, 288
  bounce flash, 289
  defined, 310
  disadvantages of, 290–291
  Fill-in flash mode, 296–298
  flash bracket as method for attaching, 288
  flexibility of, 290
  guide numbers, 289–290, 291
  hot shoe as method for attaching, 288
  overview, 288
  power of, 288–289, 290
  sync cord as method for attaching, 288
  zoom heads, 290
action photography
  ghosting, 298
  shutter speeds, 54–55
Adams, Ansel
  The Negative, 18
  photographer, 15, 17–18, 177
  Zone System, 85
advanced zoom cameras
  electronic-type viewfinder (EVF), 38
  exposure controls, 36, 37–39
afterglow, 177, 198
AI (auto-indexing) lenses, 100
Always-on mode, 301
ambient light, 310
angle of view contrast, used to minimize, 222–223
  defined, 310
animal photography and Red-eye Reduction mode, 303–304 aperture automatic lens diaphragms, 100
  constant maximum apertures, 99
  defined, 310
  depth of field, aperture used to manipulate, 104–110
  exposure controls, 50–52
  f-stop numbering system, 96–98
  f-stops, 50–52
  landscape photography, 105, 106
  lens speed, 98–99
  overview, 50
  portrait photography, 106
  shutter speed relationship, 56–57, 126–128
  variable maximum apertures, 99
Aperture Priority mode
  defined, 310
  depth of field, 105–106
  exposure controls, 35
  overview, 154–155
aperture ring, 96
apps for calculating depth of field, 109 Archer, Fred (Zone System), 85 architecture, assignment for photographing, 31 attaching accessory flash, methods for, 288 Auto exposure mode
  defined, 310
  overview, 150–151, 284
Auto ISO mode, 46
Auto-HDRI mode, 227
auto-indexing (AI) lenses, 100 automatic lens diaphragms, 100 Automatic mode, 150–152
automatic scene modes, 14 automatic white balance, 180
autumn scenes, 269–271
average gray weathered buildings as middle tone subject, 83

B

B (Bulb) setting, 129
background
  bokeh, 113–115
  dark subjects/light backgrounds, metering, 210–211 light subjects/dark backgrounds, metering, 208–210
backlighting
  defined, 310
  overview, 190–192
  white subjects with detail, 212
ballhead
  defined, 310
  overview, 121
battery power needed for flash, 284 black light (long wave ultraviolet) lamps, 162 boats in fog/mist conditions, 264–265
bokeh
  defined, 310
  overview, 113–115
bounce flash
  defined, 310
  overview, 289, 293–294
bounce reflectors, 294
bounce-back, 286
bracketed exposure
  defined, 310
  overview, 89–90
  for sunsets, 277–278

COPYRIGHTED MATERIAL

bridge cameras
electronic-type viewfinder (EVF), 38
exposure controls, 36, 37–39
buffer, 310
built-in flash
advantages of, 283–284
Automatic exposure mode, shooting in, 284
bounce-back, 286
disadvantages of, 285–287
guide numbers, 291
overview, 144
red eye due to, 286
Bulb (B) setting, 129
Burst mode, 310

C

cable release, 310
calibration hardware, 30
monitor, 28–29
software, 30
camera obscura
defined, 310
described, 52
camera RAW
advantages of, 232–233
for autumn scenes, 269
defined, 315
disadvantages of, 231, 233
dSLR camera support, 41–43
JPEG file format compared, 231–232
JPEG+RAW file format, 313
overview, 231–233
for snow scenes, 273
style modes, 16–17
white balance, 179, 232–233
camera shake, 128
camera vision versus human vision, 19–23
Canon
Picture Styles, 16
Speedlite, 305
Cape Light (Meyerowitz), 177
card reader, 311
carnival lights as subject for night photography, 248–249
Carr, Pete (HDR Photography Photo Workshop), 227
catchlight, 311
CCD chip, 311
cell phone cameras, 44 Center for Creative Photography, 15 center-weighted metering
defined, 311
matrix metering compared, 70
spotlit buildings, 254
TTL (through-the-lens) meters, 69–71
city skylines
as subject for night photography, 250–251 tripods used for shooting, 120 city street scenes as subject for night photography, 251–252 clear blue sky as middle tone subject, 83 clipping warnings, 209
Close-up mode, 168–171, 299–303
close-up photography
backlighting, 190–191
depth of field, 117–119
sidelighting, 190
cloud formations, 267 cloudy day white balance setting, 180
cloudy days
diffuse light, 194–195
heavy overcast light, 196
CMOS chip, 311
CMYK, 311
color balance, 298–299
color contrast metering, 217–218
strong, 218–219
color management, 30
Color Management for Digital Photographers For Dummies (Padova & Mason), 30 color temperature
cool/warm color balance, 298–299
defined, 311
night photography, 241
overview, 178
colorcast, 311
ColorSync utility, 30
commercial labs exposure element and, 28
finding, 28
compact digital cameras and depth of field, 115–117 compact point-and-shoot cameras, 35–37 comparative photo sets, 120
compression, 311
constant maximum apertures, 99
continuous lighting, 311 contrast angle used to minimize, 222–223 color contrast, strong, 218–219 as creative element, 223–224
dynamic range, 218
exposure problems corrections, 9–10 fill-in flash used to manage, 220–221 HDRI (High Dynamic Range Imaging), 226–227
histograms, 230–231
overview, 218–219
reflectors used to manage, 220 shadows as design element, using, 223 shadows used to create modeling effects and establish form, 225–226

silhouettes, 227–229, 234
time of day for shooting used to manage, 221
using, 223–226
contrast range, 311
cool color balance, 298–299 correct exposure (technically) good exposures preferred to, 11
mood of photograph, 25–26
myth of, 17
overview, 13–14
Correll, Robert (HDR Photography Photo Workshop), 227
creative element
contrast, 223–224
exposure, 4
shutter speed, 132
white balance, 183–185
Creative Shutter Speed: Master Your Camera's Most Powerful Control (Doeffinger), 129 crop factor, 311
Curves feature (Photoshop), 217 custom white balance, 183

D

dappled daylight, metering, 217 dark skin as middle tone subject, 83
dark subjects
with light backgrounds, metering, 210–211 metering, 213–214
dawn, 198
daylight
afterglow, 177, 198
contrast, managing, 221
dappled daylight, 217
dawn, 198
golden hours, 200–201
lighting direction, 185–192
metering white subjects with detail in, 211–213
midday lighting, 199–200
overview, 176–177, 197
quality of light, 193–197
shooting the same scene at different times of day, 177–178 time of day, 177–178, 197–201
twilight, 198–199
white balance settings, 178–185
dedicated flash, 291
default mode ISO speed, 46
defocus control, 114
depth of field
Aperture Priority mode, 105–106, 154
aperture used to manipulate, 104–110 apps for calculating, 109
close-up photography, 117–119
compact digital cameras, 115–117 creative power of, 100–103
defined, 311
factors affecting, 104–114 handheld depth-of-field guide, 109 isolating subject by limiting, 121 large apertures used for extracting subjects, 109–110
LCD display used to view, 109 lens focal length as factor in, 110–111 macro photography, 117–119
middle range apertures used for "safe" subjects, 106–107
Shutter Priority Mode, 156–159
small apertures used for expansive detail, 106 subject distance as factor in, 112–113 tripod use, 119–122
depth of field scale
defined, 311
described, 109
depth-of-field preview button, 109
design, 311
difficult situations for metering, 207–218 diffuse light, 194–195
diffuser, 311
digital cameras categories of, 35–36
EXIF data recorded on, 22
histograms, 12
LCD panel, 12
light-metering features, 11 metadata recorded on, 22 scene modes, 14
style modes, 16–17
tips on using, 11–15
digital negative (DNG) format, 312 digital noise
defined, 314
ISO speed, 46, 47–49
long exposure times, 146
digital single lens reflex cameras. See dSLR digital zoom, 311
dimly lit interiors and shutter speed, 144–146 direction of light
backlighting, 190–192
front lighting, 187–189, 202
overview, 185–187
sidelighting, 190
top lighting, 189–190, 199–200
direction of motion as factor in shutter speed, 135–137 distance from subject as factor in shutter speed, 139–140 DNG (digital negative) format, 312
Doeffinger, Derek
Creative Shutter Speed: Master Your Camera's Most Powerful Control, 129
photographer, 45, 68, 120, 137, 142

driver, 312
dSLR
advantages of, 40–43
defined, 312
depth-of-field preview button, 109
exposure controls, 36, 40–44
lens interchangeability, 41 Manual Exposure mode, 40–41
Manual mode, 89
mirrorless interchangeable lens (MILC) cameras compared, 39 RAW format support, 41–43 when to purchase, 44
dynamic range, 311

E

Edgerton, Harold E. (inventor of the electronic flash), 282
18% gray, 78
18% gray cards, 81
electronic cable release, 245 electronic flash
accessory, 288–291
Always-on mode, 301
battery power needed for, 284
bounce, 293–294
bounce reflectors, 294
built-in, 283–287
Close-up mode, 299–303
color balance, 298–299
dedicated, 291
Fill-in flash mode, 296–298
flash off, 304
Flash-on mode, 297
Forced mode, 297, 301
guide numbers, 291–293
history of, 282
invention of, 282
modes, 295–304
multiple flash units (wireless), 304–305
in night photography, 242
Night scene modes, 299
overview, 282
Red-eye Reduction mode, 303–304
sync speeds, 298
TTL (through-the-lens), 282–283
wireless flash technology, 304–305
electronic flash setting, 181
electronic-type viewfinder (EVF), 38
EV (exposure value), 312
evaluative meters, 66–69
EVIL (electronic viewfinder, interchangeable lens) cameras. See MILC exaggerating motion and shutter speed, 140–144 EXIF data recorded on digital cameras, 22 experience with tonal range, 9 value of, 15
with visualization, 19 ExpoDisc, 183
exposure
creating a good, 6–7
creative element, 4
defined, 5, 312
importance of, 4–5
overexposure, 6
overview, 4–5
subjectivity in choosing, 17–18 technically correct, 13–14
underexposure, 6
exposure bracketing
defined, 312
overview, 89–90
exposure compensation, 87–88
exposure controls
advanced zoom cameras, 36, 37–39
Aperture Priority mode, 35, 154–155
Automatic mode, 150–152
dSLR cameras, 36, 40–44
ISO speed, 45–49
lens aperture, 50–52
Manual exposure mode, 159–164
mirrorless interchangeable lens (MILC) cameras, 36, 39
overview, 34–35
point-and-shoot cameras, 35
point-and-shoot (compact) cameras, 35–37
Programmed mode, 152
Shutter Priority mode, 35, 156–159
shutter speed, 52–57
subcompact cameras, 36–37
exposure lock, 89
exposure value (EV), 312 exposure-lock button, 70–71 extension tube, 312
external flash
advantages of, 288–290
attaching, methods for, 288
bounce flash, 289
defined, 310
disadvantages of, 290–291
Fill-in flash mode, 296–298
flash bracket as method for attaching, 288
flexibility of, 290
guide numbers, 289–290, 291
hot shoe as method for attaching, 288
overview, 288
power of, 288–289, 290
sync cord as method for attaching, 288
zoom heads, 290

extraction apertures, 109
Eyedropper tool (Photoshop), 210

F

face-detection technology, 297 fall foliage, 269–271
fast glass, 98
fast lens night photography, fast lens versus higher ISO speeds in, 240
    overview, 98
faster shutter speeds, 54–55, 56 Ferris wheel as subject for night photography, 248–249 fill-in flash
    contrast, managing, 220–221
    defined, 312
    overview, 296–298
film cameras and ISO speed, 45 filters fog, 264
    graduated neutral density, 312 neutral density, 141, 155, 314 polarizing, 268, 270, 314 star effect, 244
fireworks displays
    multiple bursts, capturing, 257–258 night photography, as subject for, 257–258 single exposure for, 258 flash
    accessory, 288–291
    Always-on mode, 301
    battery power needed for, 284
    bounce, 293–294
    bounce reflectors, 294
    built-in, 283–287
    Close-up mode, 299–303
    color balance, 298–299
    dedicated, 291
    Fill-in flash mode, 296–298
    flash off, 304
    Flash-on mode, 297
    Forced mode, 297, 301
    guide numbers, 291–293
    history of, 282
    invention of the electronic flash, 282
    modes, 295–304
    multiple flash units (wireless), 304–305
    in night photography, 242
    Night scene modes, 299
    overview, 282
    Red-eye Reduction mode, 303–304
    sync speeds, 298
    TTL (through-the-lens), 282–283
    wireless flash technology, 304–305
flash bracket as method for attaching accessory flash, 288 flash off, 304
flash sync speed
    defined, 312
    overview, 298
flashlights, 243, 255
Flash-on mode, 297
flexibility of accessory flash, 290 Flickr, 227
fluorescent setting for white balance, 181–182 focal length, 312
focal plane, 312
fog and mist, 262–265
fog filters, 264
Forced mode, 297, 301
foreground
    for sunrises, 279
    for sunsets, 279
freezing motion, shutter speed for, 132–140
front lighting, 187–189, 202
front-curtain sync
    defined, 312
    overview, 299
f-stop
    defined, 312
    overview, 50–52
f-stop numbering system, 96–98

G

ghosting, 298
golden hour
    defined, 312
    overview, 200–201
graduated neutral density filter, 312 gray card
    defined, 312
    described, 81
gray stone (in average light) as middle tone subject, 83
gray value
    overview, 78–79
    problem situations for light meters, 80–82
    shortcuts to middle tones, 82–85
green grass in sunlight as middle tone subject, 83 green mode, 150–151
guide numbers, 291–293

H

halation, 244, 247
handheld depth-of-field guide, 109
handheld meters
    incident-light meters, 76
    overview, 74–75
    reasons for using, 74 reflected-light meters, 75–76
    spot meters, 76–78

handheld shots, shutter speed for, 128 harbors in fog/mist conditions, 264 hard light, 194
hardware calibration, 30
HDR Photography Photo Workshop (Carr & Correll), 227
heavy overcast light, 196
hiding the sun behind something opaque during sunsets, 277–278 High Dynamic Range imaging (HDRI or HDR), 213, 226–227, 313 high key
    defined, 313
    metering high key scenes, 214–216 highlight detail
    described, 208
    for snow scenes, 272–273
histogram
    advantages of, 230–231
    contrast, 230–231
    defined, 313
    disadvantages of, 230–231
    interpreting, 12
    overview, 230–231
history of flash, 282
HoodLoupe (Hoodman), 208
hot shoe
    defined, 313
    described, 288
Hue control (Photoshop), 229
human vision versus camera vision, 19–23

I

image sensor, 313
image stabilization with tripods, 119–120 image-editing programs, 13 importance of exposure, 4–5
incident-light meters
    handheld meters, 76
    light meters, 76
indoor photography and Shutter Priority mode, 158–159 infrared light, 313
invention of the electronic flash, 282
ISO speed
    Auto ISO mode, 46
    default mode, 46
    defined, 313
    digital noise, 46, 47–49
    experimentation with, 58
    exposure controls, 45–49
    film cameras, 45
    Manual ISO mode, 46
    manually setting, 45
    overview, 45–46
isolating subject by limiting depth of field, 121

J

Jackson, William Henry (photographer), 132
JPEG file format
    defined, 313
    RAW file format compared, 231–232 and style modes, 16–17
    white balance, 179
JPEG+RAW file format, 313

K

Kelvin scale
    defined, 313
    described, 178

L

Landscape exposure mode
    defined, 313
    overview, 164–166
landscape photography
    Aperture Priority mode, 154
    autumn scenes, 269–271
    backlighting, 190–191
    lens aperture, 105, 106
    sidelighting, 190
    stormy skies, 267
Landscape style mode, 16
large apertures used for extracting subjects, 109–110
LCD display
    depth of field, used to view, 109 reviewing exposures on, 12
lens aperture
    automatic lens diaphragms, 100
    constant maximum apertures, 99
    defined, 310
    depth of field, aperture used to manipulate, 104–110
    exposure controls, 50–52
    f-stop numbering system, 96–98
    f-stops, 50–52
    landscape photography, 105, 106
    lens speed, 98–99
    overview, 50
    portrait photography, 106
    shutter speed relationship, 56–57, 126–128
    variable maximum apertures, 99
lens focal length changing, 111
    depth of field, 110–111
lens speed
    aperture size factors, 98–99
    fast lenses, 98
    price of lens in relation to, 99

prime lenses, 98, 99
single-focal-length lenses, 98, 99
slow lenses, 98
zoom lenses, 98–99
Lensbaby Composer, 161
lenses
defined, 313
interchangeability, 41 longest lens used to shoot sunsets, 277
macro, 314
prime, 98
slow, 98
wide-angle, 110–111
light meter
center-weighted meters, 69–71
defined, 313
evaluative meters, 66–69
gray value, 78–85
handheld meters, 74–78
how it works, 62–65
incident-light meters, 76
matrix meters, 66–69
multi-segment meters, 66–69
overview, 62
problem situations for, 80–82
reflected-light meters, 75–76
shortcuts to middle tones, 82–85
spot meters, 76–78
TTL (through-the-lens), 64–74
light metering
bracketing, 89–90
color contrasts, 217–218
dappled daylight, 217
dark subjects, 213–214
dark subjects/light backgrounds, 210–211 difficult situations for, 207–218
on digital camera, 11
exposure compensation, 87–88
exposure element, 9
exposure lock, 89
high-key scenes, 214–216
light subjects/dark backgrounds, 208–210
low-key subjects, 213–214
manual exposure, 89
night photography, 242–243
spot metering, 72–74
sunsets away from the sun, 276
white subjects with detail, 211–213
Zone System, 85–87
light quality
defined, 313
diffuse light, 194–195
hard light, 194
heavy overcast light, 196
normal light, 193–194
overview, 193
light subjects/dark backgrounds, metering, 208–210
lighting. See also natural light
black light (long wave ultraviolet) lamps, 162
off-camera flash, 162
studio, 162
lighting direction
backlighting, 190–192
front lighting, 187–189, 202
overview, 185–187
sidelighting, 190
top lighting, 189–190, 199–200
long exposures versus higher ISO speeds in night photography, 240 long exposures/steady camera and shutter speed, 141–142 long wave ultraviolet lamps, 162 longest lens used to shoot sunsets, 277
low key
defined, 313
metering low key subjects, 213–214
LumiQuest, 294

M

macro lens, 314
macro photography, 117–119
manual, importance of reading your camera's, 34
manual exposure, 89
Manual exposure mode
city street scenes, 251
dSLR cameras, 40–41
overview, 159–164
shutter speed, 143
for sparklers, 255
for traffic streaks, 246 Manual ISO mode, 46
manually setting ISO speed, 45 manually setting white balance, 182 Mason, Don (Color Management for Digital Photographers For Dummies), 30 master photographers, studying work of, 14–16 matrix meter
center-weighted meters compared, 70 fog/mist conditions, 265
overview, 66–69
TTL (through-the-lens) meters, 66–69
McNally, Joe (photographer), 305 medium gray, 78
Meola, Eric (photographer), 177 metadata
defined, 314
recording, 22

metering
bracketing, 89–90
color contrasts, 217–218
dappled daylight, 217
dark subjects, 213–214
dark subjects/light backgrounds, 210–211
difficult situations for, 207–218
on digital camera, 11
exposure compensation, 87–88
exposure element, 9
exposure lock, 89
high-key scenes, 214–216
light subjects/dark backgrounds, 208–210
low-key subjects, 213–214
manual exposure, 89
night photography, 242–243
spot metering, 72–74
sunsets away from the sun, 276
white subjects with detail, 211–213
Zone System, 85–87
metering modes, 314
Meyerowitz, Joel (Cape Light), 177
midday lighting, 199–200
middle range apertures used for "safe" subjects, 106–107
middle tones average gray weathered buildings, 83 clear blue sky, 83
dark skin, 83
defined, 314
gray stone (in average light), 83 green grass in sunlight, 83 identifying, 91
light metering, 82–85
overview, 77
red-brick buildings, 83 MILC (mirrorless interchangeable lens camera)
defined, 314
dSLR compared, 39
exposure controls, 36, 39
mist, 262–265
monitor calibration hardware, 30
overview, 28–29
software, 30
mood
exposure element, 23–27
technically correct exposures and, 25–26 moon as subject for night photography, 259 motion shots, shutter speed for, 140–144 moving subjects, shutter speed for, 129–131 multiple fireworks bursts, capturing, 257–258
multiple flash units (wireless), 304–305
multi-segment meters, 66–69
Muybridge, Eadweard (photographer), 134

N

natural light
afterglow, 177
contrast, time of day for shooting used to manage, 221
dappled daylight, 217
lighting direction, 185–192
metering white subjects with detail in, 211–213
overview, 176–177
quality of light, 193–197
shooting at different times of day, 177–178
time of day, 177–178, 197–201
white balance settings, 178–185
nature photography
color contrasts, 218
silhouettes, 227–229
The Negative (Adams), 18
neon signs as subject for night photography, 246–248 neutral balance automatic, 180
cloudy day setting, 180
creative element, 183–185
custom, 183
daylight setting, 180
defined, 315
electronic flash setting, 181
fluorescent setting, 181–182
manipulating, 183–185
night photography, 241
overview, 179
preset, 183
RAW file format, 232–233
reasons for manually setting, 182
selective settings, 180
shade or open shade setting, 180
tungsten setting, 180
neutral density filter
defined, 314
described, 141, 155
Neutral Picture Style mode, 16
Niépce, Joseph Nicéphore (photographer), 50 night markets as subject for night photography, 252–253
night photography
carnival lights as subject for, 248–249 city skylines as subject for, 250–251 city street scenes as subject for, 251–252
color temperature, 241
fast lens versus higher ISO speeds, 240 Ferris wheel as subject for, 248–249 fireworks displays as subject for, 257–258 flash use, 242 flashlight used during, 243
halation, 244, 247
long exposures versus higher ISO speeds, 240

Manual exposure mode, 162–164
metering, 242–243
moon as subject for, 259 neon signs as subject for, 246–248 night markets as subject for, 252–253
overview, 238–240
sharpness in, 244–245
Shutter Priority mode, 158–159
shutter release, methods for, 245
sparklers as subject for, 254–256 spotlit buildings as subject for, 254 star effect filters used during, 244 steadying camera without tripod, methods for, 240 subjects for, 246–258
time exposures, 254–256 traffic streaks as subject for, 246
white balance, 241
Night-portrait mode, 167–168
Night-scene mode
described, 167, 299
for sparklers, 255
Nikon
Picture Controls, 16
Speedlight, 305
noise
defined, 314
ISO speed, 46, 47–49
long exposure times, 146
normal light, 193–194
notes on your photographs metadata, digital cameras' recording of, 22 visualization skills improved by taking, 21
Nüchterlein, Karl (engineer/inventor), 65

O

off-camera flash, 162
Oglesbee, Brian (photographer), 177 open shade white balance setting, 180 optical viewfinder, 314 optical zoom, 314
overexposure
defined, 314
described, 6
reasons for, 6–7

P

Padova, Ted (Color Management for Digital Photographers For Dummies), 30 panning
defined, 314
shutter speed, 140, 142–143
Panorama mode, 171
pan-tilt heads, 121, 141
parallax error, 314
peak of motion as factor in shutter speed, 137–139 pentaprism, 314
photographers
Ansel Adams, 15, 17–18, 177
Brian Oglesbee, 177
Carleton E. Watkins, 132
Derek Doeffinger, 45, 68, 120, 137, 142
Eadweard Muybridge, 134
Edward Steichen, 15
Eric Meola, 177
Fred Picker, 22
Galen Rowell, 177
Gavin Zau, 136–137, 252–253
Jennica Reis, 15, 102
Joe McNally, 305
Joseph Nicéphore Niépce, 50
Leonard Lee Rue, 209
master photographers, studying work of, 14–16
Pete Turner, 177
William Henry Jackson, 132 photography, studying, 14–16 Photomatix, 227
Photoshop (Adobe)
Curves feature, 217
exposure corrections, 13
Eyedropper tool, 210
Hue control, 229
Saturation control, 229
software calibration, 30
Picker, Fred (photographer), 22
Picture Controls (Nikon), 16 Picture Styles (Canon), 16
pixel, 314
Plowden, David (Vanishing Point), 177
point-and-shoot cameras
defined, 314
exposure controls, 35
point-and-shoot (compact) cameras, 35–37
polarizing filter
defined, 314
for fall foliage, 270
rainbows, 268
portable reflectors, 220 Portrait mode
defined, 315
described, 168
portrait photography
backlighting, 190–191
bracket-mounted flash for location, 288 flash, taking a nighttime portrait with, 306 flash used in, 191
lens aperture, 106

continued

portrait photography (continued)
low-key subjects, 214
Red-eye Reduction mode, 303
reflectors used in, 191
wireless flash technology, 305
Portrait Style mode, 16, 17 power of accessory flash, 288–289, 290 preset white balance, 183 price of lens in relation to lens speed, 99
prime lenses, 98, 99
problem situations for light meters, 80–82
Programmed mode, 152

Q

quality of light
diffuse light, 194–195
hard light, 194
heavy overcast light, 196
normal light, 193–194
overview, 193
quick-release mounts for tripods, 121 quick-release plate, 315

R

rainbows, 268–269
rainy days, 266–267
range for shutter speed, 128–129 RAW file format
advantages of, 232–233
for autumn scenes, 269
defined, 315
disadvantages of, 231, 233
dSLR camera support, 41–43
JPEG file format compared, 231–232
JPEG+RAW file format, 313
overview, 231–233
for snow scenes, 273
style modes, 16–17
white balance, 179, 232–233
rear-curtain sync
defined, 315
described, 299
red eye built-in flash, due to, 286
defined, 315
red-brick buildings as middle tone subject, 83
red-eye reduction, 315
Red-eye Reduction mode, 303–304
reflective light meter, 75–76, 315 reflectors
contrast, managing, 220
portable, 296
Reis, Jennica (photographer), 15, 102 remote shutter release, 245 resolution, 315
Rowell, Galen (photographer), 177
Rue, Leonard Lee (photographer), 209
Rue Groofwin Pod (Leonard Rue Enterprises), 209

S

Sandburg, Carl (poet), 262–263 Saturation control (Photoshop), 229
scene modes
avoiding, 14
Close-up mode, 168–171
Landscape mode, 164–166
Night-portrait mode, 167–168
Night-scene mode, 167
overview, 164
Panorama mode, 171
Portrait mode, 168
Sports/Action mode, 166–167, 172
scouting locations for sunsets, 275–276 Seascape style mode, 16 selective focus, 315
selective white balance settings, 180 settings for shutter speed, 128–129 shade or open shade white balance setting, 180 shadows
as design element, 223
used to create modeling effects and establish form, 225–226 sharpness in night photography, 244–245 shutter, 315
Shutter Priority mode
defined, 315
exposure controls, 35
overview, 156–159
shutter speed, 143
shutter release, methods for, 245 shutter release button, 70
shutter speed
action shots, 54–55
aperture relationship, 56–57, 126–128 B (Bulb) setting, 129
choosing, 129–131
creative power of, 132
defined, 315
dimly lit interiors, 144–146 direction of motion as factor in, 135–137 distance from subject as factor in, 139–140 exaggerating motion, 140–144
exposure controls, 52–57
faster shutter speeds, 54–55, 56
freezing motion, 132–140

handheld shots, 128
long exposures/steady camera, 141–142 Manual exposure mode, 143
motion shots, 140–144
for moving subjects, 129–131
overview, 52, 54–56
panning effects, 140, 142–143 peak of motion as factor in, 137–139 range for, 128–129
settings for, 128–129
Shutter Priority Exposure mode, 143 slower shutter speeds, 56
for still subjects, 129–131
stop-action shots, 132–140
subject speed as factor in, 134–135 zoom effects, 143–144
shutters, 52–53
sidelighting
defined, 315
described, 190
white subjects with detail, 212
silhouettes, 227–229, 234
single exposure for fireworks displays, 258
single-focal-length lenses
constant maximum aperture, 99 lens speed, 98, 99
slave, 315
slow lenses, 98
slower shutter speeds, 56
small apertures used for expansive detail, 106
snow scenes, 272–273
soft light, 315
software calibration, 30
sparklers as subject for night photography, 254–256
speed (lens)
aperture size factors, 98–99
fast lenses, 98
price of lens in relation to, 99
prime lenses, 98, 99
single-focal-length lenses, 98, 99
slow lenses, 98
zoom lenses, 98–99
sports photography
Fill-in flash mode, 298
Shutter Priority mode, 158
wireless flash technology, 304, 305 Sports/Action mode, 166–167, 172
spot meter
defined, 315
overview, 76–78
spot metering
TTL (through-the-lens) meters, 72–74
wildlife photography, 74
spotlit buildings as subject for night photography, 254 star effect filters used during night photography, 244 steadying camera without tripod, methods for, 240 Steichen, Edward (photographer), 15 still subjects, shutter speed for, 129–131
stop-action shots, 132–140
stormy skies, 267–268
studio lighting, 162 studying photography, 14–16
style modes
disadvantages of, 16–17
experimentation with, 17
JPEG format, 16–17
landscape, 16
Neutral Picture Style, 16
overview, 16–17
portrait, 16, 17
RAW format, 16–17
seascape, 16
vivid, 16
subcompact cameras, 36–37
subject distance as factor in depth of field, 112–113 subject modes
avoiding, 14
Close-up mode, 168–171
Landscape mode, 164–166
Night-portrait mode, 167–168
Night-scene mode, 167
overview, 164
Panorama mode, 171
Portrait mode, 168
Sports/Action mode, 166–167, 172
subject speed as factor in shutter speed, 134–135 subjectivity in choosing exposure, 17–18 subjects for night photography, 246–258 sunrises foreground, shooting with an interesting, 279 shooting, 273–277
sunsets
bracketing exposures by a full stop or more, 277–278
foreground, shooting with an interesting, 279
hiding the sun behind something opaque, 277–278 longest lens used to shoot, 277 metering away from the sun, 276
overview, 273–274
scouting locations for, 275–276
silhouettes, 229
super zoom cameras
electronic-type viewfinder (EVF), 38
exposure controls, 36, 37–39
switching between TTL (through-the-lens) meters, 66 sync cord as method for attaching accessory flash, 288 sync speed
defined, 312
overview, 298

T

technically correct exposures
- good exposures preferred to, 11
- mood of photograph, 25–26
- myth of correct exposures, 17
- overview, 13–14

telephoto lens
- depth of field, 110–111
- fog/mist conditions, 265

thought process for taking a photograph, 4 through-the-lens meters. See TTL (through-the-lens) meters time exposures and night photography, 254–256
time of day
- afterglow, 198
- contrast, managing, 221
- dawn, 198
- golden hours, 200–201
- midday lighting, 199–200
- overview, 197
- shooting the same scene at different, 177–178
- twilight, 198–199

tonal range
- dynamic range, 218
- experience with, 9
- exposure element, 5
- overexposure, 6–7
- spot metering, 77
- underexposure, 6–7

top lighting, 189–190, 199–200
traffic streaks as subject for night photography, 246 travel photography
- lens aperture, 106
- top lighting, 189

tripods
- ballheads, 121
- city skylines at night, 120
- comparative photo sets, 120
- defined, 315
- image stabilization with, 119–120
- overview, 119–122
- pan-tilt heads, 121, 141
- purchasing, 121
- quick-release mount, 121
- using, 119–122

TTL flash, 282–283
TTL (through-the-lens) meters
- center-weighted meters, 69–71
- defined, 315
- matrix meters, 66–69
- overview, 64–66
- spot metering, 72–74
- switching between, 66
- TTL flash, 282–283
- types of, 66

tungsten white balance setting, 180 Turner, Pete (photographer), 177
twilight
- city skylines, 251
- shooting in, 198–199
- silhouettes, 229

U

underexposure
- defined, 315
- described, 6
- reasons for, 6–7

V

Vanishing Point (Plowden), 177
variable maximum apertures, 99
visualization
- experience and, 19
- human vision versus camera vision, 19–23
- notes on your photographs, visualization skills improved by taking, 21
- overview, 17–18
- tips for, 21–23

Vivid style mode, 16

W

warm color balance, 298–299 Watkins, Carleton E. (photographer), 132 weather
- fog and mist, 262–265
- overview, 262
- rainbows, 268–269
- rainy days, 266–267
- stormy skies, 267–268

wedding photography
- bracket-mounted flash for, 288
- white subjects with detail, 213

white balance
- automatic, 180
- cloudy day setting, 180
- creative element, 183–185
- custom, 183
- daylight setting, 180
- defined, 315
- electronic flash setting, 181
- fluorescent setting, 181–182
- manipulating, 183–185
- night photography, 241
- overview, 179
- preset, 183
- RAW file format, 232–233
- reasons for manually setting, 182

selective settings, 180
shade or open shade setting, 180
tungsten setting, 180
white card, 315
white subjects with detail, metering, 211–213 wide-angle lens, 110–111
wildlife photography
Fill-in flash mode, 298
Shutter Priority mode, 158
spot metering, 74
wireless flash technology, 304, 305
wireless flash technology, 304–305

Z

Zau, Gavin (photographer), 136–137, 252–253
Zone System
defined, 315
overview, 85–87
zoom effects, 143–144
zoom heads, 290
zoom lens
defined, 315
lens speed, 98–99
variable maximum aperture, 99